

Tell us as much as possible about your project. The more you can tell us the closer we can get to what you need. We are able to begin a project when approximate budget, estimated quantity and end use is provided.

The request can be as simple as changing a color of an existing Designtex standard line product, to changing an end use, through to a completely custom pattern made specifically for the project.

Custom studio gathers either existing samples or produces fully custom samples to fit the needs of the project.

Pricing is quoted and lead times for production are determined.

1-2 days or 4-6 weeks

This is depending of if existing samples can be sent or samples need to be made.*

Once the product is approved, if it was a special woven product it then goes into ACT testing.

If it was an existing product most testing would already be done in the past, however sometimes additional testing needs to be performed.

3-6 weeks

If testing is necessary.*

The customer submits a purchase order to their sales representative/sales support person.

The product is set up in our internal systems. The customer's credit is checked and once approved Designtex releases an order to our vendor.

3-5 days

The order is produced. If our supplier has stock then it gets shipped right away.

If the product needs to be produced, then lead times vary depending on the project and mill location (USA or international).

1-3 days

If product is stocked in the USA.*

6-18 weeks

If fabric needs to be produced.*